Whitehead Of Pt. Lobos Moved South

District Park Superintendent Jess T. Chaffee announced today that James Whitehead, formerly Supervisor of Point Lobos Reserve State Park, has been promoted from the position of Ranger III to Ranger IV. This promotion will take him away from the post he has held most successfully for three years at Point Lobos Reserve.

For the present time Whitehead's new assignment will be district office representative on the forthcoming State historical monument at San Simeon in San Luis Obispo County.

"Ranger Whitehead's chief interest has previously been with the conservation of our natural resources, but his unquestioned ability as a supervisor and organizer has made him the most promising candidate for filling the responsible post of supervisor of the Hearst Castle project," Mr. Chaffee said.

Ranger and Mrs. Whitehead have recently completed a tour of Europe where they visited many of the historic sites on the Continent, as well as in England. Although the trip was not planned with the thought of being appointed head ranger at the Hearst Castle, this experience will be of value to him in planning and supervising the operations of the impending new State historical monument at San Simeon, with its vast collection of antiques and objects of art gathered by Mr. W. R. Hearst, Senior, over a period of many years. For the present time Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead and son Michael, age 10 years, will live in Cambria, a community several miles south of San Simeon.

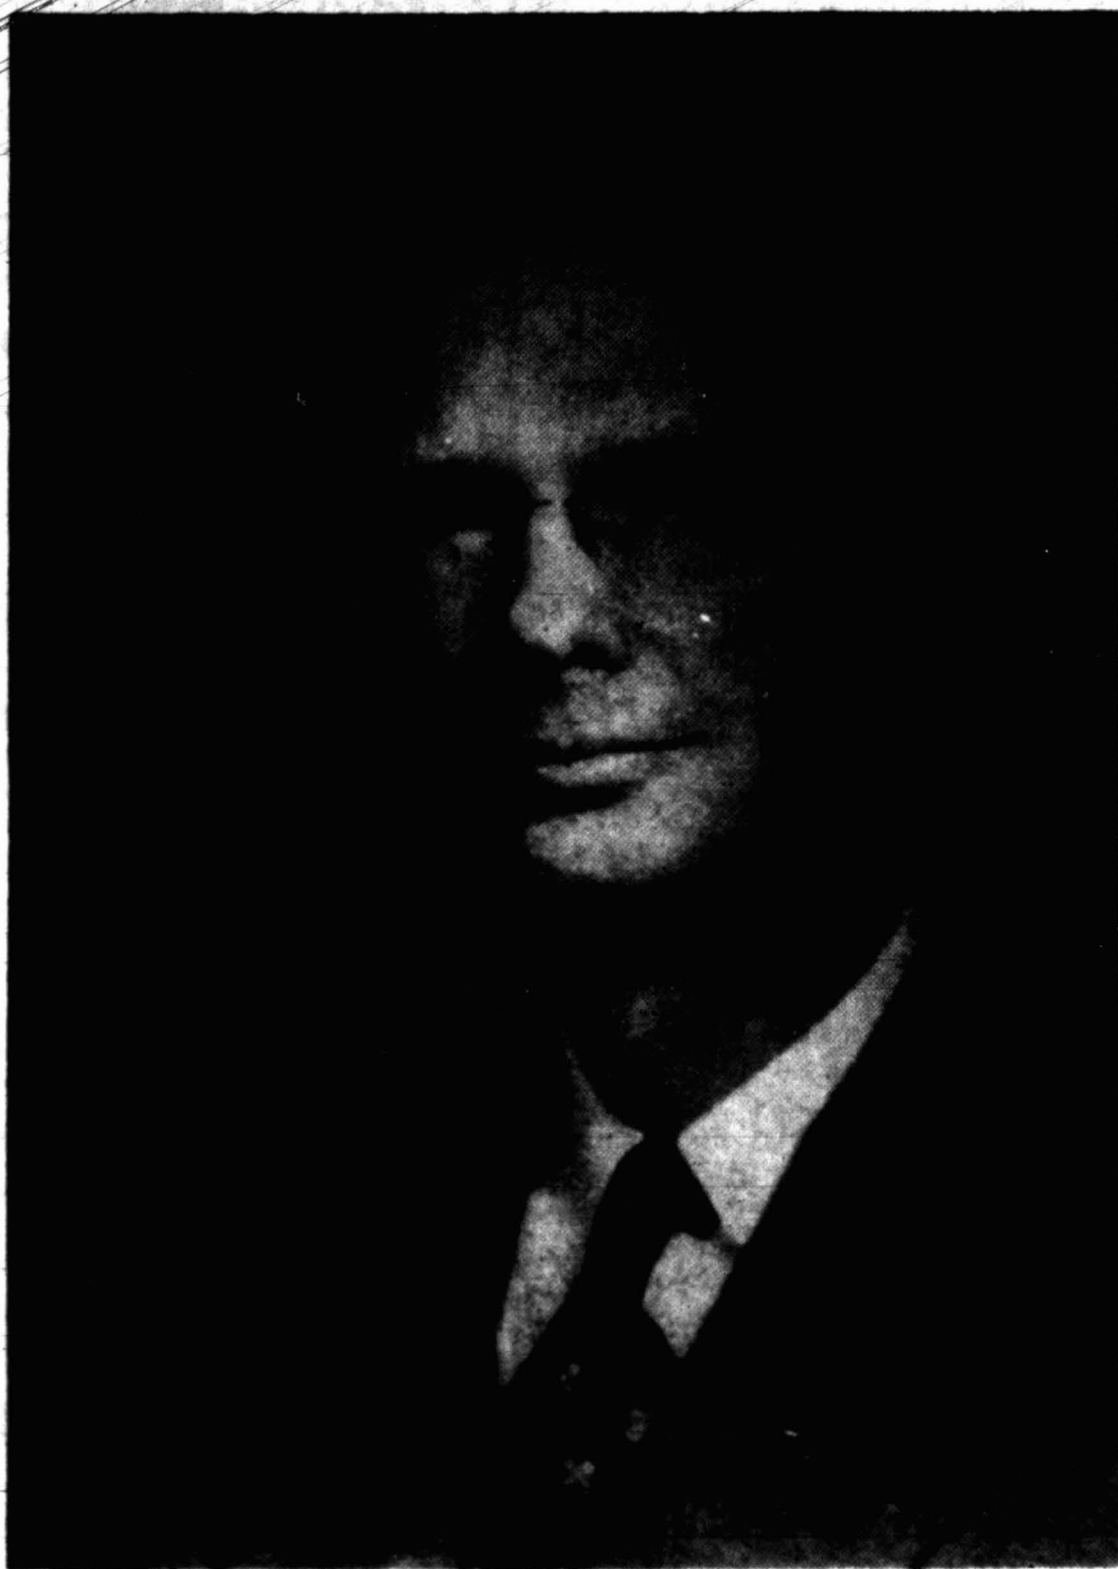

Ranger Milton M. Frincke, formerly of Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park in Humboldt County, has been appointed supervisor of Point Lobos Reserve State Park to fill the vacancy created by Whitehead's departure. Mr. Frincke has worked with the Division of Beaches and Parks as a Naturalist, as well as a Ranger, and possesses the necessary qualifications to supervise capably the important and exacting operations of Point Lobos Reserve.

Tom Brown Is Champ Holiday Decorator In Mission Fields

The home of Tom Brown on Sycamore Place in Mission Fields has a first award sign in front, and Mr. Brown received a cash prize of $50 for the best decorated home at the Mission Fields community Christmas party on Sunday night.

Second prize went to the home of Dr. Harold Funk who received a $25 savings bond.

Third through thirteenth place winners took their choice from merchandise orders, cash and turkeys. They were E. H. Duerr, Patric Crichton, V. R. Brasher, Don Campbell, Richard M. Head, Jerald Busic, Kent Whitcomb, Howard Hinchcliff, John Calcagno, Lou Rudolph and Lynn Smith.

Mayor John Chitwood's New Year's Report On Problems Of The City

Sincere thanks are extended to the editors of the Carmel Pine Cone for the invitation to present a recapitulation of some of the important problems affecting city affairs which occurred during the year now ending and to present a few remarks concerning city problems yet to come.

The finances of the City continue to be established on a sound basis, thanks principally to the considerable amount of revenue received from the City Sales Tax. This has enabled the City to maintain a rock bottom real estate tax rate.

During my experience on the Council, I have always been impressed by the amount of service performed by the Street Department, particularly considering the small amount of money available for public works, the size of the work force, and the limited amount of equipment. By and large, the streets of Carmel are in excellent condition — the parks and beaches well kept and landscaped.

The Street Department is continually concerned with the problem of reforestation on public property throughout the City. An extensive discussion of the condition of our trees has recently been covered in the Planning Commission and City Council and in the columns of the Press. It is hoped that the public, as a result of this information, will enthusiastically support the efforts of the City in maintaining an adequate forestation program which gives to Carmel a large measure of its particular kind of beauty.

The Police Department, under a systematic and efficient administration, maintains a complete and thorough patrol of all parts of the City. This coverage has been generally successful in preserving the peace and in many cases has prevented incidents from occurring which would have required police attention, especially with respect to juvenile activities. Additional training for the Chief of Police, an F.B.I. Academy Graduate, was provided by the recently held F.B.I. Retraining School in Washington, D. C.

The Police Station interior is being improved by appropriate alterations and refurbishings.

Aided by an energetic Fire Chief and competent drivers, the devoted sons of Phoenix (Volunteer Firemen) keep the Carmel Fire Department an efficient and dependable agency for the protection from fire of the buildings and homes of Carmel citizens. Additionally, the Fire Chief and Fire Marshal expend much effort in fire prevention work. The equipment is maintained in first class condition — and much needed maintenance work on the Fire Station building is now in progress. Special thanks is extended to the ambulance service maintained by the Red Cross and housed in the Fire Station building. Councilman Carl Patnude can usually be found at the wheel on the frequent emergency calls.

Special consideration and commendation for the work of the Carmel Planning Commission is

Dr. H. Brownell Killed In Crash On Christmas Eve

Dr. Harry L. Brownell, 63 year old Monterey dentist, was killed in a Christmas Eve automobile accident in Del Monte Forest at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday night. He was driving west on Forest Road when apparently he lost control of his car on a curve and ran into a tree. He was dead when the ambulance brought him to the Monterey Hospital. A crushed chest was the cause of death, according to Coroner Chris Hill.

Dr. Brownell had taken his gardener into Monterey to attend the movies, and was returning to his home on the Seventeenth Fairway when the accident occurred. Don Cavin of Sloat Road, Monterey Peninsula Country Club, driving east on Forest road witnessed the crash.

Dr. Brownell was born on January 4, 1894, in Mountain View. He attended schools in Gilroy after his family moved to that city in 1905 and spent one year at the University of California before he entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco. He graduated in dentistry in 1916.

During World War I he served in the Navy as a dentist at Mare Island and following the war practised in Fresno until 1923 when he opened offices for the practice of dentistry in Monterey.

His marriage to Mrs. Leola Wilson Brownell, who survives him, took place in San Jose on May 17, 1917.

An ardent golfer, fisherman and hunter, Dr. Brownell was also active in community affairs and served on the Monterey airport board for 20 years. He was a member of the Monterey Elks and a member and past president of both the Monterey Rotary Club and the Ninth District Dental Society. He was a past president and charter member of the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and lived on Cormorant Road in the Country Club area.

Dr. Brownell was also a member of the Fresno Masonic Lodge; Scottish Rites bodies, Fresno, and Islam Shrine, San Francisco.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by three brothers, Dr. Raymond Brownell of Carmel Valley, J. R. Brownell of Truckee, and Herbert W. Brownell of Carmel Valley.

Funeral services will be tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in

Little League Has Lawn And Troubles, Maybe You Can Help

Fellows wear themselves down to the skin and bone to get a big, expensive lawn planted, and what happens? It grows. It has to be mowed two or three times a week, and when you have an acre of it to cut, and only volunteers to cut it who have to find time away from their jobs and businesses—

Plainly, the Carmel Little League needs a power mower, jockey type, the kind that you ride around on while it mows. These mechanisms cost from $600 to $1200 depending.

The Little League doesn't have $600 to $1200.

Do you have a power mower, new or used, you'd like to give them? or money to buy one? or $100 toward the lawn mower or $10, or $5?

Send your checks to Bob Connell, vice president of the Little League and chairman of the We Have To Get A Power Mower Somewhere, Somehow Committee, Box 386, Carmel. If you have a power mower to give them, phone MA 4-3605 and Mr. Connell will come and get it. If he isn't around to answer the phone try Bill Woolsey, MA 4-6645.

Otherwise, the Little League, only one year old, is thriving. It has a capital investment of about $5000 in fence, bleachers, backstop dugouts, etc., etc., thanks to the Monterey Peninsula Voluntary Services and many individual donors.

In addition to its four "farm teams," the league will field six teams this spring, two more than

Surf 'N Sand License Effective January 30; Drug Sales First

Surf'n Sand, at Sixth and Torres Streets, will open its drug business the first week in January, without a liquor department until after January 30.

"Ninety percent of the fixtures are in, the painting is almost done, and we'll start stocking the shelves in a few days," Paul Chedester told the Pine Cone yesterday. The drug store will be in operation for several weeks before the liquor sales start.

The much heard and appealed case of the Paul Chedester and Robert Aebersold off sale liquor license apparently is settled, after 18 months' dispute. The California Alcoholic Beverage Control Board has decided the proposed business is in compliance with the Carmel City ordinance and notified the applicants this week that their off

PADRES WIN DOUBLE-HEADER FROM GONZALES

Carmel High's varsity and lightweight hoop squads racked up a pair of league wins at the expense of the Gonzales Spartans last Friday night, the varsity winning a thrilling overtime tussle, 56 to 50, and the lightweights getting the job done, 28 to 20. The win for the Padre varsity was number one in league competition this season and elevated the local preps from the cellar to a tie for fourth place in league standings. Carmel's lightweight squad jumped a few notches in the standings and now is in second place behind league-leading Live Oak.

Friday night's varsity fracas was a battle between Carmel's field goals and the accurate free-throw shooting of the visiting Spartans. The Padres pumped through 22 field goals to 14 for the visitors but the Spartans led in the charity tosses, 22 to 12. Frank Wallace, Padre playmaker, turned in his game of the current season hitting eight field goals and one free throw to rack up 17 points. The junior left-hander was deadly with a running jump-shot just off the key and was largely instrumental in breaking the Gonzales pressing defense. Fine rebounding and close-in shooting by Bill Hicks and Phil Durbrow gave the Padres a big boost in the scoring department and allowed them to get an even break on the rebounds. The Spartans showed a fine basketball prospect in Glenn Cooper, a 6-6 pivotman, who rung up 15 points to lead the visitors. A dead ringer for Kenny Sears, Watsonville's pro great, Cooper is just beginning to grow and should be a great star before he graduates. Except for Cooper, the Gonzales squad resembled an undersized lightweight team which had to rely on speed and hustle to stay in the ball game. Joe Montes, swift Spartan forward, chipped in with 12 points for the Gonzales cause, hitting a solid 6 for 6 at the free-throw line.

Carmel's fifteen-man lightweight squad wore down the Spartan Babes and came with a rush in the final period to post the victory. Neither squad had much luck in the shooting department, Carmel hitting for 24% of their shots from the floor and Gonzales good on 22%. The tight defense pressure applied by the Padrecitos bothered the visiting lights and forced them to make bad passes which were gobbled up by the alert Carmel lads. Gonzales got only 7 field goals for the entire game as the hustling Carmel defense applied the pressure. The accurate outside shooting of David Farr, the driving jump shots of Walt Helm, and John Doud's accuracy at the free-throw line paced the Padrecito offense. Pete Willcox, junior guard, topped the Carmel rebounders for the third straight game, picking off eight defensive rebounds to allow the visitors only one shot at the hoop.

The Padre hoopsters will rest until January 6 when school takes up again. After four days practice, the local preps will engage in a weekend double-header, journeying to Felton for a league tussle with San Lorenzo Valley High on Friday, January 10, and entertaining Palma High (Salinas) on Saturday, January 11.

THROUGH THE HOOP

An opportunity for elementary, high school, and college cagers to get in a little play is provided at the Carmel High gym during the Christmas vacation period as the popular play spot will be open morning, afternoon, and evening. Elementary school youngsters can take their shots from 10 to 12 in the morning, the high school set takes over from 1-4 in the afternoon, and college-age cagers who can beat the curfew will have the gym from 7 until 10 p.m. A Christmas Tournament is being arranged by William Wakefield, Carmel Recreation, Director, to include alumni players who are home for the holidays.

Monterey High's top-rated basketball team received a severe jolt from Santa Cruz last Friday night when the Cardinals rudely upset the Toreadores, 48 to 40, in the CCAL A-division opener. Picked by the experts to breeze through the A-league, Monterey failed to reckon with the fine all-around play of Jim Smith, smooth Cardinal forward who pumped in 16 points. Jim was a student at Carmel's Sunset School before moving to Santa Cruz and would look good wearing a Padre uniform now.

Basketball races in both divisions of the CCAL look to be a toss-up this season with all the A-division squads about equal and any of the B schools capable of knocking off the other. Gilroy and Pacific Grove are both undefeated after three games in the B-division but both schools have had narrow squeaks against the lower-division clubs. With a little shooting luck from the free-throw line, the Carmel Padres would have finished in front of both the leaders and off the showing against Gonzales, the Red & Gray squad is one of the best in the league. Top cagers in the B-division league appear to be Gilroy's Dick Smith and Elbert Enos, Carmel's Dale Dawson and Frank Wallace, Hollister's Roger Grimsley, and Glenn Cooper from Gonzales. Live Oak, winner of the lightweight championship for the last two seasons will again be heavily-favored to cop the flag.

Nice to see the Monterey Peninsula College hoop squad winning a few games and making a respectable showing against the tough teams. Coach Pete Peletta appears to have overcome the defeatist attitude which has been shackling the Lobo cagers and has the team glowing with confidence and poise. Of course, a few players over the 6-5 mark help to light up the scoreboard on the Lobo side. This Friday night, the Lobos host the strong Modesto Junior College quintet at the Monterey High gym.

Carmel Christmas Music

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

The Musical Art Club's Christmas concert and party came off on Friday at the Woman's Club with a fairly good attendance to hear the Diamond Chorus from Fort Ord, conducted by the clever Kenneth Wilson who, unfortunately, has only a few more weeks at Fort Ord. Several concerts will still be given under Wilson in San Francisco and environs before his departure. His arrangement for male chorus of Martin's Fanfare for Christmas was greatly enjoyed. A Palistrina number, the Creation by Willy Richter, Lo, How a Rose, Testament of Freedom, Carol of The Bells, Nothing Like a Dame, (with Robert Estly in a tenor solo) The Sleigh by Kountz, and Hallelujah, all received impressive treatment by the men and were announced in an interesting manner by one of them. Their fine tonal work, enunciation and humor with dramatic gestures were brilliantly accompanied at the piano by John Williams. It was an exhilarating performance with happy Christmas spirit, followed by refreshments and exchange of small gifts.

At the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, The Second Shepherd's Play, a Granville Barker adaptation, directed by Charlotte Perry, was presented by the Carl Cherry Foundation as its annual Christmas gift to the community. The three day performance included a number of gifted children, some of whom were in the play last year. All showed that delightful spontaneity and unconsciousness which children display when they "make believe." Their earnestness, was perfectly guided by Charlotte Perry and assistant Michel MacKay. Costumes were made by Geddis and Martin. Mrs. Cherry addressed the audience and explained the discovery of this old 14th Century play in Lancashire, England, the author unknown. "Cycle Plays" of that period have been considered the first awakening of native English drama and were acted by tradesmen and laborers in public squares and innyards around 1360. It was all charmingly conveyed by the children, not least of which was the angel choir's humming which was truly musical.

The Pageant on Sunday evening at All Saints—Why the Chimes Rang—used many children and grownups. Every kind of medieval occupation was picturesquely represented from a King to the little boy Pedro (John Dunn) who assisted a poor woman (DeNeale Morgan) at sacrifice of his own desire and whose smallest offering on the altar of the Cathedral at last caused the chimes to ring that long had been silent because of the people's selfishness. Narrated by Father Nicholas (author of the script) with Robert Forbes at the organ and directed by Meryl Olsen, it was most impressive to those who could see its progress down the aisle and in the chancel. A guitar solo by Ernest Varnar added an old world prelude reminding of the fact that the beautiful carol Silent Night was first played on a guitar by its author because the mice had eaten the bellows of the organ! The music to the Pageant, in which Jean Canada sang a solo, was wonderfully well adapted. A court jester (Stephen Sampson) preceded the King with hand springs all down the aisle. The Churches have all gone a long way since the days in New York's Bowery where drama and dancing in the old Church there was greatly criticized by those who forgot that the origin of the dance was prayer and that the early Church used drama as a teacher.

I did not witness the pageants at the Wayfarer or the Presbyterian Churches but attended their morning services.

At the Church of the Wayfarer, the Chapel Choir did admirably in excerpts from the Messiah, directed by John Farr, with Mrs. Caruth at the organ. At the Presbyterian Church I heard more Handel, He Shall Feed His Flock from the Messiah, feelingly sung by Pamela McFayden with Fred Lewis at the organ.

O'Keeffe Beaten, Cannot Recall His Assailant

Though no longer in critical condition, Walter F. O'Keeffe who was beaten in his home December 19, is unable to tell police what happened or who was his assailant, according to Chief of Police Clyde Klummann.

O'Keeffe, in the hospital recovering from compound skull fractures, is conscious from time to time but unable to recall events immediately preceding his injury.

On December 19, about 10:30 in the morning, his wife found him unconscious in the living room of his house at Thirteenth and San Carlos. Furniture was upset, walls and floor spattered with blood; and blood was on a hammer, a fire shovel, two empty pop bottles and a broken whiskey bottle. O'Keeffe's jacket was also blood soaked and torn.

Mrs. O'Keeffe, who has an apartment down town, had come to look for him when he failed to come to work at their furniture store on Dolores Street. She sent for a doctor who summoned the Carmel Red Cross Ambulance. It was the ambulance driver, Councilman Carl Patnude, who reported the incident to the police.

O'Keeffe's Thunderbird was missing, but police recovered it Friday in New Monterey.

It appears the attack took place some time after 1:30 o'clock in the morning. Paul Clappett, who lives next door to O'Keeffe, had a martini with him at 8:00 o'clock the preceding evening. O'Keeffe went to the post office, visited Don McGilvra, had a drink with him and left at 8:30 o'clock. At about 11:00 o'clock he had beer and coffee at the Pine Inn. The dispatcher at Joe's Taxi said she received a phone call from him between 12:30 and 1:30 asking her to call him at 5:45 in the morning. She rang at that time and off and on until 7:00 o'clock without receiving an answer.

Apparently, robbery was not the motive for the beating, since O'Keeffe's wallet, containing $358 was found on a table in his bedroom.

Church New Year's Party

All members and friends of the Church of the Wayfarer are invited to a New Year's Party planned by the Voyagers, Couples' Club, Young Adults and C-Bee groups at the church.

A program is planned with Charles S. Downes as master of ceremonies. A buffet supper will be served at 10:30 o'clock.

Surf 'N Sand License Effective January 30

The applicants first proposed to open a liquor store, the Pink Elephant, at the location. The city council and the Carmel Protective Association protested. Outside the central business district, city ordinance requires that liquor sales must be in conjunction with and subordinate to some other business. The ABC board found the city ordinance invalid but the appeals board upheld the city ordinance and denied the license. The applicants took their troubles to superior court in Salinas, then decided to comply with the city ordinance by establishing a drug store with a liquor department. A public hearing on this modified application was held here in November, and last week the ABC board approved the license but held up issuance until January 30 to give city and Carmel Protective Association time to appeal if they wish. City Councilman Carl Patnude told the Pine Cone that the city will not pursue the matter further. "We've made our point. The city ordinance is upheld."

Harold Ireland, representative of the Protective Association, was not in town this week to speak for the association.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

It may be too soon to ask if you have recovered from Christmas, but perhaps it is just the right time to thank you for the many holiday remembrances received by the library staff this year. We are very pleased and grateful. Even this librarian's small dog received a Christmas card! Now that's what we call the Christmas spirit.

We have a variety of books this week and for once we are going to group them to make this discussion slightly logical. There are four new books for the artists of the community. For the commercial artist there is Charles Kingham's Rendering Techniques. Mr. Kingham has been a commercial artist since 1914 and his book is based upon experience rather than theory. It starts with a list of materials for the beginner and goes on, showing various techniques all along, until it ends with examples of finished water color illustrations of landscapes, animals, and people. Then there is Andrew Loomis who has written a number of books on figure drawing. In 1956 he published this one called Drawing the Head and Hands. Loomis draws from a basis of understanding of the bones and muscles of the human body, the underlying structure, and his drawings have a three dimensional sturdiness which is a delight to the eye.

More along the line of the cartoon is the work of Dale Nichols, in his book entitled Figure Drawing. This is the line drawing of the human figure which has commercial briskness and perhaps the marketable quality. Last in this group of four books is Composition in Pictures by Pay Bethers. This is a rewritten second edition of a book which appeared in 1949. It is a scholarly analysis of many pictures for their composition and movement. It should be a great help to the sincere student of composition.

There are two new cookbooks, both somewhat out of the ordinary. The Art of Caribbean Cookery by Carmen Valdejuar seems to be intended for the experienced cook. This book will be a real experience for the devoted artist of the kitchen. An easier one to follow and a lot of fun to read is Season to Taste by Peggy Hervey. It is supposed to be for the woman who is on the lookout for new ideas in cooking. It is full of recipes for dishes which are easy to make and enjoyable to consume after they are made. (Let's not indulge in grammatical rabbit punching by asking how enjoyable it would be to eat things before they are made).

Also for the homemaker is Marguerite Dodd's new book America's Homemaking Book. We bought two copies of this book and

Dog Owners Invited To Spend $3.00 At City Hall On Jan. 2

At 9:00 o'clock on the morning of January 2, Carmel Tax and License Collector Arthur Plaxton will receive his first customer at city hall for 1958 dog tags . . $3.00 please.

"We have a cute design for this year," Mr. Plaxton told the Pine Cone, "dogs heads. Why should Carmel have an ordinary old round or square dog license like any other town?" But under the cheerfulness, there was residual concern. "They look like airedale heads. What if skye terrier owners object. You can never be sure about pet owners' reactions."

Then he got down to business. "Tell them that because of the rabies condition in the county I can issue licenses only to those who bring in a certificate of vaccination. The state has become concerned and within a few months there will be a sweep through Monterey County; and any dog not vaccinated and licensed will be a serious problem to his owner. They will accept no excuses. Every put one of them in the reference collection to help us answer all those questions about removing stains and spots, and how to get rid of certain insects, and a hundred other housekeeping problems. So you may borrow the circulating copy or you may telephone us for answers which we will find in the reference copy.

Dr. John Schindler, who wrote How to Live 365 Days a Year, has just published another how-to-do-it book called Woman's Guide to Better Living. While this book is intended for women, there is little doubt that reading it would be good for men, too. It is full of straightforward advice about living a good life, which is what most of us want to do. The book was planned while Dr. Schindler was on a canoe trip with his wife and three daughters, and as a consequence he has included a few photographs of the trip, not that they have much to do with the book, but they are attractive pictures.

There are novels, and more non-fiction. Have a Happy New Year. See you then!

dog over four months old must be vaccinated and licensed, even if the dog is never out of the yard.

What about cats?

"Cats are specially privileged. Dr. Husband (Myron Husband, county health officer) says that rabies in cats is practically nil. They are not gregarious, they are difficult to infect and they are not carriers."

FOR A HAPPY New Year

The New Year, like the new day that dawns each morning, fresh and unspoiled, is an opportunity and challenge. The twelve months ahead, as yet untouched by any mark of time, can be regarded as precious hours out of each of our lives in which to progress, to grow, to develop, to forget any errors of the past, to change what is unworthy of us.

The degree to which 1958 is a success will depend upon each one of us. In our own small, seemingly unimportant channel of activity we can strive not only for our betterment but for the welfare of all our fellowmen — the neighbor in the redwood house next door, as well as our human kinsman in Asia, Africa and the European Continent.

The support each of us gives our neighbors, those who live and work in our own city, will be reflected on a larger scale throughout our Nation and our world. For a prosperous, successful year let each of us strive to do first what is kind, generous, wise and public-spirited close to home. We then can hope that this individual effort for the common good will be reflected throughout the world.

Conservation On The March

A Weekly Column by
C. Edward Graves,
Western Representative,
National Parks Association

REVIEW: "INTERPRETING
OUR HERITAGE": by Freeman
Tilden. University of North Carolina Press. $3.50.

This review will provide a fitting end to nearly four years of this CONSERVATION ON THE MARCH column. "Interpreting our Heritage" has been one of the main objectives of the column, though perhaps not in quite the same way as described in the book. Protecting it has been another objective. All conservation work is designed to protect from despoliation the great richness of natural resources with which this continent has been endowed.

The author of this book, Freeman Tilden, is a free-lance writer who is well-known as an authority on the national parks. In 1951 he wrote another book: "The National Parks; What They Mean to You and Me", which has since become a sort of Bible on the subject for many readers. The present book was written on the invitation of the National Park Service and was intended to be a kind of Bible for the ranger-naturalists in carrying on their work.

This reviewer spent the summer of 1930 as a student in the Yose-mite School of Field Natural History, where he first came into intimate contact with the work of "interpreting" the national parks.
The Director of the School was Dr. Harold C. Bryant, then a member of the faculty of the University of California, who had initiated this work several years before with the financial backing of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Goethe of Sacramento. The following year
Dr. Bryant was called to Washington to take charge of developing the work in the entire national park system. It has now grown to the point where the Director of the National Park Service thought a book discussing the principles of interpretation was needed.

The tone of the book could perhaps be described for the lay reader by repeating an anecdote that the author obtained from Frank Pinkley, the first Superintendent of the Southwestern Monuments for the National Park Service. Mr.
Pinkley is telling about a trip that he made with Gabriel Sovulewski, a well-loved national park employee who was long a ranger in Yosemite National Park. He writes: "He once took me on a geological trip on the floor of the Valley, which wound up at the foot of El Capitan. We sat there three or four minutes wordless, drinking it all in; then he said something I have never forgotten:
'You can talk all you want to about how this valley was formed, but there is where your science ends and Almighty God begins'."

This is the type of interpretation that the author is urging on all national park employees. Information is necessary but is only half the job. "The chief aim of Interpretation," says Mr. Tilden, "is not instruction but provocation." In other words, ranger naturalists should try to stimulate their audiences to think about the inner meaning of the outer phenomena.

The following paragraph carries this thought on to its logical conclusion: "If a man of science could so feel, then the finest uses of national parks, or indeed of any of the preserves that come within the range of interpretive work, lie ultimately in spiritual uplift. This end cannot be reached except through a walk with beauty of some aspect, in which the interpreter is not primarily a teacher, but a companion in the adventure."

This dominance of spiritual over material benefits is what all conservationists are hoping for in the use of the national parks and other wilderness areas. More and better crops and harvests on a material plane are very desirable in their places, but spiritual incentives should predominate in the dedicated reserves of the natural world.

Added to the family on this occasion was Abbott Jr.'s bride Helen. Their marriage took place on December 12 in Spokane, Washington, and they stopped in Carmel on their way to Kansas to spend Christmas with Helen's family. On Christmas Day she will introduce her husband to 25 members of her immediate family at dinner time and on Sunday 100 of her relatives are gathering to meet Abbott Jr. Bill returned to Los Angeles after the Carmel reunion weekend and could not be here for Christmas with his parents this year.

Mona and Chris Williams Home

Rainstorms and a flat tire a few miles from Carmel delayed Mona Williams and her son Chris as they tried to reach Carmel before dark on Saturday evening. They were on the last lap of a cross country drive from New York and anxious to get home, Mona after three months in Europe, and Chris after three years' absence from Carmel serving with the Army in Germany.

Just as anxiously awaiting their arrival were Henry Williams, Mona's husband and Chris' father, and the two girls in the family, Lacy Williams and Karen Bryant, and Karen's husband and daughter, Ed and Jessica Bryant. Telephone calls from the returning travellers kept those waiting in Carmel informed of the delays and from becoming too anxious as the evening passed.

Sunday Mona and Chris were happily greeting Carmel friends with Mona proudly displaying the jacket of her book, The Marriage, to be published soon by Putnam's.

Candace Kaller Born

Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Kaller have named their daughter Candace Jane. She was born at the Peninsula Community Hospital on December 16 with a birth weight of six pounds, six ounces. Candy's brother is Jimmy who will be two years old on New Year's Day.

Santa Visits Firehouse

Santa Claus (Jim Kelsey) came down the Fire House chimney on the evening of December 19 to distribute presents to the 38 children of members of Carmel's Volunteer Fire Department.

A tree decorated the Fire House for the party attended also by the children's parents. Ice cream and cookies were served after Santa was finished with the present giving, and stockings filled with candy, donated by the Hansel and Gretel Shop, were also distributed to the youngsters.

Mrs. Bernard Roberts was chairman for the affair assisted by the Fire Chief's wife, Mrs. Bob Smith.

Cynthia Cox, Jon Menand Engaged

The engagement of Cynthia Cox and Jon Menand was announced at a family gathering on Christmas afternoon in the home of Cynthia's mother, Mrs. Louis Cox of Carmel.

Cynthia and Jon first met at Carmel High School and are now both students at Oregon State College. Cynthia is in her sophomore year as an education major. She is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority and on the editorial board of the Barometer, Oregon State's campus paper.

Jon, majoring in forestry, is in his junior year and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. His parents are Mrs. Mina Menand of Carmel and Robert Menand of Pacific Grove.

Marriage plans are, tentatively, for a year from June after Jon has graduated from college.

Elstons To Ski At Norden

On Christmas morning Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Elston and their three daughters Patty, Jeannie and Helen, drove to Mariposa County for a family dinner at the ranch of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Elston Sr., six miles north of Coulterville. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Elston, Patty and Helen will leave the ranch for a week's skiing at Norden near Donner Pass.

During the Elstons' absence their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis (Jennifer Lloyd) and their two sons, Owen and Lloyd, from Palo Alto.

Organ Society Yule Party

Members of the Monterey County chapter of the Hammond Organ Society held their annual Christmas party, as usual, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Skowran. Orchids and Christmas decorations placed about the rooms provided a festive background for carol singing to the piano and organ accompaniment of Mrs. Skowran and Mr. Fred Lewis. Organ selections were also played by these two members as well as Dr. B. J. Balcar and Bert Atwood of Salinas. An exchange of gifts took place after the program, followed by the serving of refreshments.

Louise Cabral Married

Coming as a surprise to their many Peninsula friends this week is the announcement of the marriage of a longtime Carmelite, Louise Cabral, superintendent of Monterey Hospital, and F. J. McDonald M.D. of the hospital staff. The ceremony took place on Saturday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock in the Church of the Five Wounds in San Jose.

The bride was dressed in a mist blue wool gabardine suit with black accessories and a white orchid corsage. Lois Williams of Carmel was her attendant. Best man for the groom was William D. Forestelle M.D. of Monterey.

Following the vow exchange, a wedding luncheon was served at the Hotel de Anza in San Jose for the bridal couple, wedding attendants and a few close friends.

After a honeymoon in Northern California, the couple will return to make their home on the Monterey Peninsula.

Millards Home From Aspen

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Millard came home a week ago from Aspen, Colorado, where they skied for two weeks as guests of Mr. Millard's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Millard of Chicago, at the chalet which they built in Aspen a year ago. They were joined for a few days by Mr. Millard's daughter, Wendy, who is a student at the Rocky Mountain School in Colorado.

"The ski lift at Aspen is the longest and highest in the world," reports Malcolm Millard, "and it's difficult skiing at 11,000 feet, the height at which one leaves the lift, for the first few days."

O'Malleys Home For Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Malley have been in Carmel for a week "trying to get the Christmas spirit" after several months in tropical Curacao and a trip home through the Panama Canal.

They were met in San Francisco and driven home by the Arthur Strasburger family "who tried to get us Christmas by taking us to see Santa Claus," says Mrs. O'Malley.

When we asked the frequently travelling O'Malleys if they were planning another trip. Bill said, "not this year."

CHURCHESCHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The ever-availability of the healing power taught and practiced by Christ Jesus will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will include the account in John (4:46-53) of Jesus' healing of the ruler's son that lay sick at Capernaum.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (329:1): "As time moves on, the healing elements of pure Christianity will be fairly dealt with; they will be sought and taught, and will grow in all the grandeur of universal goodness."

The Golden Text is from Daniel (2:20, 22): "Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his: ... he revealeth the deep and secret things."

WATER
never goes out of style

Fashions come and go, fads flourish then fade. What is modern and popular today will be obsolete and unwanted tomorrow. In nearly every phase of life, there is constant change, the eternal search for the new. Not so with water, however. The most valuable commodity in life, it never changes, is always right in style.

Water heads the popularity list in the world's way of life and therefore it is essential that it be Grade-A pure. Maintaining the highest water standards is a responsibility we have always accepted and will continue to fulfill to the very best of our ability.

surely in order. The members, serving in a volunteer capacity, handle most difficult problems for the sole purpose of attaining the highest standard possible in Carmel land use. The recently-enacted ordinance covering many features, including landscaping, for commercial property, should culminate in satisfactory results both for the landowners and the public at large. This additional authority was necessitated by the rapid progress in the development of property under more competitive conditions.

A review of the list of public lands and facilities, enjoyed by all, indicates the benevolence and generosity of many of our former as well as present citizens and friends of this community.

Carmel Woods Recreation Park (Tennis Courts), Block 155, presented by Del Monte Properties Company;

Park on Camino del Monte, Block 12, Carol Benson Ulander for $10.00;

Harrison Memorial Library — Ella Reed Harrison gave property building and 2000 volumes;

Carmel Art Gallery — George Beardslee gave property to the Carmel Art Association;

Devendorf Park and Sand Dunes — Carmel Development Company, token price;

Forest Theatre — Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts;

Carmel Youth Center — Taxed land, Building funds and labor donated by citizens under auspices of Fred Godwin;

Carmel River Beach — Properties acquired through the efforts of the Point Lobos League;

Fire House — now appraised at $10,000, for insurance purposes, was made possible by a 60% grant of the U.S. Government, amounting to $9,046.00.

The Library, administered by the Board of Trustees, is serving an increasing number of people each year and is now operating practically at full capacity. It appears to be a matter of time until additional floor space will be required to meet the demands and needs of the public.

While the City Council each month has a full agenda with many things to be resolved, the main problem always remains the same. Of course that problem is how to maintain the atmosphere and beauty of Carmel, under a continually rising pressure of people and visiting tourists arriving on the Peninsula. To be successful, the Council must operate with the understanding and cooperation of the Carmel Citizens.

One of the practical problems is the increased density of the parking and traffic conditions. Many remarks referring to the existing conditions may be heard but as yet there is no solidarity of opinion other than the hope that the problem will somehow disappear. In all probability, no corrective measures will or can be instituted until the new highway is completed a few years hence, resulting in the development of new traffic patterns into Carmel.

Annexation of unincorporated areas undoubtedly will become a matter to be resolved in accordance with the desires of our citizens, when and if a positive movement in the unincorporated area develops.

The Council has started studies looking to the adoption of a Master Plan which in its final form should meet and sustain the long-established principles of the community.

In closing, the Carmel Council wishes to express to everyone their sincere appreciation for the generous response of Carmelites in the conduct of city affairs—and furthermore wishes a Happy New Year to all.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN S. CHITWOOD,
Mayor.
